Understanding and Promoting Positive Mental Health and WELLbeing in the Workplace

- This accredited online i-act training is aimed at supporting employees/front-line workers and to improve their own wellbeing in the workplace, and support others who may experience a mental health or wellbeing issue.
- This course comes with a 156-page evidence-based course manual, toolkit and resource pack (pictured left) for each participant.
- The manual includes over 45 practical tools to support employees, and over 95 agencies/organisations to refer on to.
- The evidence-based i-act course manual cites over 200 reputable references, researched by leading academics in the field.
- The course highlights how we can all improve our wellbeing to help build resilience.
- The course comes with free access to all of the on-line i-act resources.
- The i-act course is accredited by The Royal College of Psychiatrists.

Course objectives - the online i-act course for ALL employees aims to:

- give participants a greater understanding of mental health and wellbeing issues, and help them recognise when they may need further help and support,
- provide some practical tools for managing stress, anxiety and low mood, and for promoting positive wellbeing to help build resilience,
- offer guidance and advice for how we can connect with colleagues who may be experiencing a mental health or wellbeing issue,
- equip participants with a resource pack, toolkit, and signposting to further help and support concerning mental health and wellbeing issues.
